

FT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
PORT SHAFTER, Feb. 19.—Capt. and Mrs. Albert P. Clark entertained in their quarters in the cantonment on Wednesday evening for Maj. and Mrs. B. J. Edgar, Mrs. Brockway and Lieut. Smith.

Mrs. William B. Cochran entertained on Thursday afternoon at a most enjoyable bridge tea in honor of Mrs. Kemble of New York City. Three tables of bridge were played and Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham and Mrs. John B. Richardson having the highest score, won the attractive prizes, while Mrs. Kemble was presented with the guest prize, a corsage bouquet of violets. The house was most attractively decorated with flowers and in the dining-room yellow and green was the color scheme used. Mrs. William Reese Scott served the ices, Miss Mary Kerwin poured coffee, while Mrs. F. F. Black poured tea. Among Mrs. Cochran's guests were Mrs. Witsell, Mrs. Theodore Martin, Mrs. Brockway, Mrs. Edgar, Mrs. M. J. Lenihan, Miss Catherine Lenihan, Mrs. Mattie, Mrs. George Mattie, Mrs. T. J. Camp, Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham, Mrs. John B. Richardson, Mrs. Kemble, Mrs. George H. Jamerson, Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Mrs. William Reese Scott, Miss Dorothy Harker, Mrs. Douglas T. Greene, Mrs. Gose, Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mrs. Philsterer, Miss McGowan and others.

One of the largest parties of the past week was that at which Mrs. Benjamin J. Edgar entertained in honor of her houseguest, Mrs. Brockway of Philadelphia. Six tables of bridge were played and the one holding the highest score at each table won an attractive prize. Among Mrs. Edgar's guests were Mrs. Witsell, Mrs. Stron, Mrs. Malone, Mrs. Clair R. Bennett, Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln, Mrs. John B. Richardson, Mrs. Boniface, Mrs. Jerry H. Pillow, Miss Mary Kerwin, Mrs. Tupper, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. George H. Jamerson, Madame Randolph, Mrs. B. W. Atkinson, Mrs. W. R. Dashiell, Mrs. F. F. Black, Madame Cochran and others.

One of the largest dinners of the past week was that at which Capt. and Mrs. William B. Cochran entertained on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Cochran's decorations were suggestive of the Valentine season, a large basket of red roses forming the centerpiece of the attractively decorated table, while streamers of red and green tulle fell from the chandelier to the guests' places and a corsage bouquet of red roses marked each of the ladies' places. Among Capt. and Mrs. Cochran's guests were Lieut. and Mrs. Hobley, Lieut. and Mrs. Mulenberg, Capt. and Mrs. Hartshorn, Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas L. Crestal, Madame Cochran and the host and hostess.

The sewing club met at the home of Mrs. B. W. Atkinson on Tuesday afternoon. Later in the afternoon, after the sewing of the week was dispensed of, tea was served. Mrs. William B. Dashiell presiding at the tea table. Among those present at the meeting last Tuesday were Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln, Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Madame Randolph, Madame Cochran, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, Mrs. John B. Richardson, Mrs. Edwin Peck, Mrs. Walter H. Chaffield, Mrs. Tupper, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Witsell and the hostess.

As usual the transport hop at the Moana hotel was very popular, many motoring out to the hotel from various points on the island. Among those noticed from Fort Shafter were Capt. and Mrs. Edwin Hartshorn, Capt. and Mrs. A. P. Clark, Lieut. and Mrs. Raymond A. Wheeler, Capt. and Mrs. Robert P. Howell, Miss Raymond, Miss Catherine Lenihan, Lieut. Charles Lyman and Lieut. Witsell.

Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham were hosts at an informal dinner in their quarters in the cantonment on Wednesday evening.

Among those from Fort Shafter who attended the moonlight dance at the Ohu Country Club on Friday evening were Capt. and Mrs. William B. Cochran, Capt. and Mrs. George H. Jamerson, Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R.

Abraham, Capt. and Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, Lieut. and Mrs. John B. Richardson, Col. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln and Lieut. and Mrs. Carl A. Hardigg.

Capt. and Mrs. Albert P. Clark had as their dinner guests Monday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler and Lieut. and Mrs. Shepler Fitzgerald of the aviation corps, who were passengers on the transport en route to Manila. After dinner Capt. and Mrs. Clark, accompanied by their guests, attended the transport hop at the Moana.

Mrs. Brockway of Philadelphia, who has been the guest of Maj. and Mrs. B. J. Edgar for the past few weeks, will be the house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Baird at their home on Waikiki beach during Carnival week, returning to Fort Shafter the following week. Mrs. Brockway has been the motive of many affairs while visiting at the post.

Invitations have been received at the fort from the president and directors of the Mid-Pacific Carnival to the ball which will be given in honor of Rear-Admiral C. J. Boush, Brigadier, J. P. Wiser and the officers of the army and navy in Hawaii on Friday evening, February 25, at the National Guard armory.

Mrs. Mattie, mother of Mrs. Thomas J. Camp, accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Mattie of Champaign, Ill., were arrivals on the Wilhelmina last Tuesday, and are the house-guests of Lieut. and Mrs. T. J. Camp in their quarters in the cantonment.

Mrs. F. F. Black has invited all of the little folks of the post to a party on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, in honor of her small son's birthday. The little ones are very excited over the birthday party and are looking forward to Saturday with great delight.

Maj. and Mrs. Raymond, who arrived on the Thomas last Sunday, were the house-guests for a few days during the past week of Capt. and Mrs. Robert P. Howell, Jr., but they have now moved into their home on Nuuanu street.

Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham have as their dinner-guests this evening Madame Mattie, Mr. and Mrs. Mattie and Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas J. Camp.

Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffiday were hosts at an informal dinner at their quarters in the cantonment Thursday evening.

SCHOFIELD SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 18.—Capt. and Mrs. Curry, who arrived on the Thomas to join the 1st Field Artillery, have been the house-guests of Mrs. Curry's sister and brother-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. Lewis Sorley of the 1st Infantry. On Tuesday evening before the 1st Infantry hon. Maj. and Mrs. Sorley entertained in their honor with a delightful hop-supper.

Another Wednesday bridge luncheon was that given by Mrs. John Jordan, which was a Valentine affair. The guests were invited for 1 o'clock, and arrived to find a charmingly decorated dining room, which had for motif festoons of pink hearts, suspended from the chandelier to the four corners of the room and outlining the walls; the four tables were decorated in different colors, forming a beautiful pastel rainbow effect. The lavender table had as centerpiece a low bowl of purple violets and heartsease with lavender mints, and dainty croque paper baskets for the nuts of the same tint, as was also the basket holding the ice. The rose table had rose colored asters as its centerpiece, the yellow bore a vase of graceful coreopsis, while the green one had Shasta daisies with their accompanying green foliage. Little paper hearts and cunning Cupids were scattered over the cloth, while the place cards showed amusing bridge terms illustrated. The whole effect was one of daintiness and originality, with the charming hand of the hostess visible through every detail. After the delicious luncheon was enjoyed, the auction rubbers contributed their part to the pleasure of this delightful occasion, with the several winners being Mesdames Frank Keifer, Robert Quenner, Frank Albright and Byard Sneed, to each of whom was presented a set of candle shades and accompanying nut baskets, the prize for each table reflecting the tint of the decorations at luncheon. The other guests included Mesdames Charles Rice, Walter Pridgen, Charles Bonesteel, Walter Greacen, Thomas Lowe, E. H. Hartnett, Robert Saers, Fred Pitts, Pelham Glassford, Eley Denson and John Reardon.

On Thursday afternoon Scherer-Willard was host at a birthday party when his sixth birthday was most enjoyably commemorated. Invited to share the celebration were Helen, David and lantha Stone, Constance Gano, Frank Crusan, Charley Wyman, Richard and Hugh Wise, Harriet Lyon, Lane and Eleanor Faison, Barbara and Alice Palmer, and Carl and Alice Truesdale. Mrs. Clyde Crusan was a delightful hostess at luncheon last Saturday when she entertained in honor of Mrs. George A. Hoagland. The tables were attractively decorated with pink carnations and pure white Shasta daisies, and the guests were Mesdames Hoagland, David Stone, Frederick Strong, Edward Carey, Henry Lantry, Joseph Daly, Charles Daly, George Bailey, Madame McCleave, William McCleave, Charles Willard, John Boniface, Vernon Caldwell, Francis Lacey, John Reardon, Wilson, George Kumpie, Cranshaw, Horace Bloombergh, Jerome Pillow, Franklin Rice, Charles Rice, Frank Albright, Byard Sneed, Joseph Janda, John Hunt, E. H. Hartnett, Livingston Watrous and Richard Hunt.

There were quite a number of passengers aboard the Thomas who were bound for Schofield, who have joined and are busily settling in the several garrisons. Col. and Mrs. Faison, Capt. and Mrs. Cecil and Capt. McNab all came to the 25th, while Mrs. Lyon with her two little daughters joined Captain Lyon here after an absence of some months. Lt. Greene returned to his regiment from leave. To the 1st Field Artillery come Capt. and Mrs. Curry and Lieut. Frankenberger, while to the cavalry comes Lieut. and Mrs. Kerr T. Riggs, Lieut. and Mrs. Herr, Lieut. and Mrs. George Converse and Capt. and Mrs. Hyer.

Mrs. Livingston Watrous was a delightful luncheon and bridge hostess on Wednesday, when her guests were Mesdames C. S. Russell, William Gano, Richard Hunt, John Hunt, Madame McCleave, William McCleave, Charles Willard, William Mapes, Americus Mitchell, Walter Frank, D. L. Howell and Howell Clinton. The three tables at which luncheon was served were decorated in different shades of African daisies. The holders of the high scores were Mesdames Mitchell, Gano and Madame McCleave, to whom were presented most attractive tea chests, filled with Chinese tea.

Friday before the hop in the 25th Club, Mrs. William Gano entertained at supper for 24, including General and Mrs. Frederick Strong, Col. and Mrs. Frank Keifer, Col. Carl Reichmann, Maj. and Mrs. Guy Palmer, Col. and Mrs. Faison, Capt. Marshall Childs, Mrs. C. S. Russell, Mrs. Richard Hunt, Capt. and Mrs. Edward Carey, Maj. and Mrs. Frank Albright, Mrs. Henry Lantry, and Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Daly. The decorations of the three tables where the party was seated were carried out in yellow and white.

Another attractive Tuesday night dinner was that given by Lieut. and Mrs. Rawson Warren, when they entertained for seven guests. The round table looked very lovely in its dainty decorations of flowers and ferns with original Cubist motifs distinguishing the place cards. Covers were placed for Col. John Gullfoyle, Mrs. De Russy Hoyle, Col. and Mrs. William Forsyth, Col. John McMahon, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Willard and Lieut. and Mrs. Warren.

On Wednesday evening Miss Lyon was again the honor guest, the affair being a dinner given by her cousin, Mrs. Truby Martin. American Beauty roses were the prominent decoration of an unusually attractive table, around which were seated the Misses Lyon, Carrie and Esther McMahon, Capt. Leo Mudd, Lieut. Edward Rose and Harriet Huntley, and Lieut. and Mrs. Martin. The party later attended the hop in the Mounted Service Club.

Mrs. Charles Willard gave a two-table luncheon on Tuesday afternoon, which was a very pleasant little affair. Her guests were Mesdames Livingston Watrous, Richard Hunt, John Hunt, E. H. Hartnett, Livingston Watrous and Richard Hunt.

Mrs. William Nalle was a bridge hostess on Friday afternoon when she had as guests Mesdames Richard Hunt, Livingston Watrous, C. S. Russell, Charles Willard, Clarence Day, Swift Martin, Chalmers Hall, Rawson Warren, Walter Short, Miss Short, John Fair, Robert Chaney, Kerr Riggs, Harry Howell Estes, Grove Culum, Harry Flint and Gordon Kimball. The prizes were pleasing little Japanese prints.

On the same evening, Colonel and Mrs. D. L. Howell were dinner hosts entertaining for friends from home who are sojourning in Honolulu, Mr. and Mrs. Hays from San Francisco, and Miss Foster from St. Louis. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Weller from Honolulu, Mrs. Clinton and Colonel S. D. Sturges. Later this party also appeared at the club hop.
